The Toledo Museum of Art ...for you and your family

Nearly everybody knows where The Toledo Museum of Art is. That's because it continues to be one of America's great art museums.

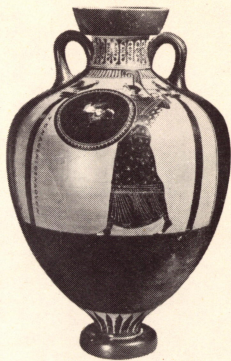

It's at the very center of Toledo's cultural life. With its world-famous collections and activities, the museum makes history come alive from ancient to modern times.

It's easy to become involved at the art museum—to see inspiring works of art, to draw, to paint, to meet new friends, and to learn about the arts from the museum's fine staff.

Few American museums have finer collections for you to enjoy. Begun nearly 75 years ago through the gifts of Edward Drummond Libbey and others, the superb collection is the basis for all our activities. The glass collection is unequalled anywhere.

See the fine American and European paintings and discover your favorites.

Paintings, sculpture, furniture and decorating arts are exhibited together; you see how these beautiful objects were used by the people for whom they were originally made.

Many children feel the museum is their second home. Over 2,000 come regularly to free classes in art and music. They come in busloads for tours and educational events related to their school curriculum.

Many adults enjoy the special art classes and lectures offered by the museum. Some of these courses may be taken for credit through the University of Toledo. A fine art library is available for your use.

Your neighbors will tell you how active they've become in art programs at the museum. Please join them.

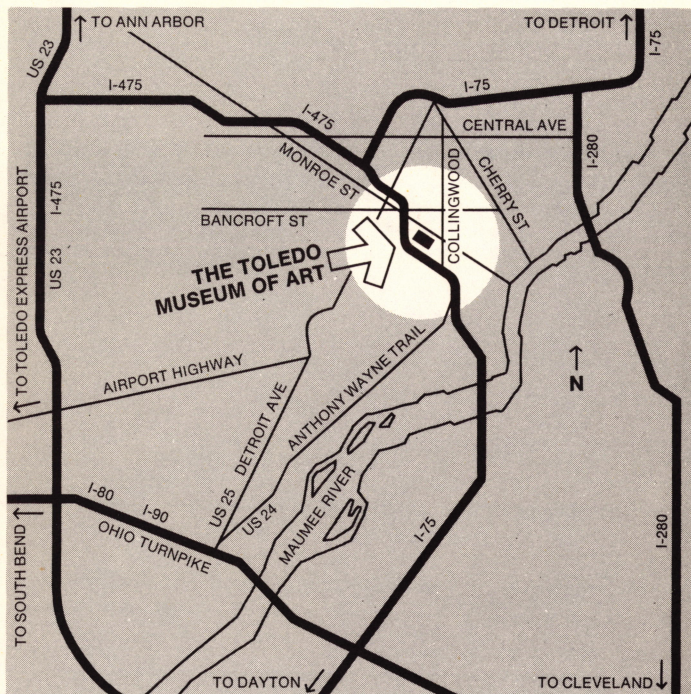

You'll be attracted to exciting special events all year: important temporary exhibitions, and concerts by famous orchestras, soloists, and dance recitals in the museum's concert hall, the Peristyle.

Sunday is the day for free chamber music concerts in the galleries, providing a delightful combination of music and art.

The new museum restaurant is a place to relax with your family and friends over lunch or a snack.

The museum is easy to reach near Interstate 475. It's located in Toledo's attractive Old West End.

Museum admission is always free—so are our children's classes. Museum hours are: Tuesdays through Saturdays from 9 to 5, and from 1 to 5 on Sundays, Mondays and Holidays. Closed some holidays.

Many Toledoans say they've grown up at the art museum.
